Background • Summary

(Additional data is either attached or available on request.)

1994-Present: Database Development, Integration & Web Deployment - Icon7

I have recently combined my experience in both Digital Graphics and Software Development to better serve clients in the emerging Internet based market -- these services include: • Web Site Development & Hosting • Development and Deployment of secure Internet Based Software Solutions • Multi-platform Database Integration Technologies for secure Business, Marketing and Medical Data (HIPPA) Systems • Design & Production of Digital Graphic & Photo Illustrations for Web Sites, CD's, Videos, Corporate Marketing & Sales.

- My experience includes the following...
 - Secure Integrated Web Based Business, Health & Financial Management Applications
 - Business Websites via Wordpress Theme and Application Plugin Integration
 - Complete Business, Information & Accounting Management & Networking for OSX

1984-1994: Software/Systems Development & Training - MacSystems®

Design, installation, training & maintenance of hardware and software solutions for the Business, Scientific and Publishing markets on the Apple Macintosh platform • Designed and created multi-user databased software for several vertical markets via Helix RADE • Created networked systems to make data available between Macintosh networks and DEC/VAX mainframe systems • Supervised the installation of LocalTalk, EtherNet & Switched T1 networks • Conducted software training on a wide range of programs from Desktop Publishing and Multimedia to Scientific Analysis and Accounting • Specified and purchased peripherals including communications, storage and backup, scanners, printers, and other input and output devices.

From 1984 to 1989 I ran MacSystems, a software development company in Ventura CA. I produced and marketed several "Vertical Market" applications, videos of which can viewed at the following website...
